SACRAMENTO DAILY UNION. MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 4.

Cantion to Printers. troupe, known as the "PENNSYLVANIANS AND SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS," which lately gave entertainments in this city, left suddenly without paying their printing bill. The object of this notice is to caution printers against trusting them, unless they desire to take the risk of being fleecid as we have been.

Report of City and County Commissioner This Report, revised and corrected from our publica-tion of Wedgesday, issued from the UNION office, is now ready. Price, 25 cents. A limited number only ha been printed, and those who desire to be in possession of this financial exhibit will do well to call early.

Steamer Union.

The Second Edition of the STEAMER UNION will be ready for delivery this morning. This number contains the usual mining, local and other news of the State, forming a history of the events which have transpired during the past forthight. Every occurrence of interest has been faithfully recorded. Copies can be had at the counting room or of the principal booksellers.

Atlantic Mails.

The Mails for the Atlantic States and Europe, per the mail steamer Golden Gate, will close at the Post Office in this city on Monday, Oct. 4th, at half-past 12 o'clock. An extra bag will be kept open until five minutes before 2 o'clock P. M.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The Supreme Court delivered two decisions on Saturday, which will be found on our last page. How et al. vs. Baker et al. was a case formerly be fore this Court, in relation to flour. The Court below charged the jury "that the plaintiffs had made out title to the property described in the complaint, to wit: 1.320 barrels of Gallego flour. and 824 barrels of Haxall flour, and that they were entitled to recover," to which the defendants excepted. The plaintiffs had judgment, and the defendants appealed. On the points of the case, which are stated at some length, the Court saw no reason to change its former opinion, and judgment is affirmed.....Ord vs. Steamship Uncle Sam.

This suit was brought to recover damages for the non-performance of a contract to transport the plaintiff and his family from San Francisco to New York. Upon the trial the plaintiff was nonsuited, from which judgment he appealed. The Court say, the contract was entire, and a failure at any point was a violation of the contract, for which the vessel was liable. The contract itself was made with the agents of the owners, and they had as much right to bind the vessel for the entire contract as for a part. Judgment reversed and cause remanded.

We publish in another place the total official vote of the late State election as declared by the Secretary of State, after comparing it with the official vote as obtained by us from the different County Clerks. For Supreme Judge and State Controller, Baldwin has 44,599; Currey, 36,198; Melony, 44,285; Dawley, 27,759. For the offices Secretary's office, we take our own returns from the County Clerks. We find that Jennings has 27,321; McKibben, 31,883; Dudley, 22,910, and Tracy, 9,298. Baldwin's majority over Currey, is

8,401; Melony's majority over Dawley, 16,526. Since a case has been pending in the San Francisco County Court vs. John C. Almy, Jr., indicted for misdemeanor in violating the California Stamp Act by receiving gold dust on the ship Rattler lading, parties have been very backward in purchasing stamps. But the late verdict of guilty, which was recently entered, has rather quickened sales at the Controller's office. For instance, the whole amount of sales in September only amounted to the sum of $2.040 56, whereas, since the month of October has set in, they have already reached the amount of $1,947 45. It is estimated that the of $100. It is stated that the case may be carried suitable for the recreation of the pupils, and one

Governor Weller has appointed Edward M. Gardner Commissioner of Deeds, to reside at Nantucket, Massachusetts, and I. H. H. Woodward to the same office, to reside at Austin, Texas. The following officers have been commissioned : Jos. G. Baldwin, for the unexpired term of Hugh C. Murray, deceased; A. R. Melony, State Controller; D. Belden, County Judge of Nevada; D. W. #### CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

In the UNION of Friday we brought school other pursuit more congenial to his taste, or affairs down to the commencement of the more stimulating to his ambition. school year in April, 1857, at which time the gentlemen composing the Board of Education which retire to-day assumed the control of the city Public Schools. With the increase of juvenile population during the past eighteen months, the cause of education has maintained, we believe, a healthy progress. The census returns of October, 1857, gave an aggregate of From the character of the subjects embraced in 1,630 white children between the ages of four the various reports, as well as the reputation of and eighteen years, and of these, as reported by those from whom the reports emanate, we are of the Secretary of the Board, in March last, 791 opinion that the publication is one of great value

The increased mate this report, we are constrained to say number of teachers employed during the first to the profession, particularly, and to many collayear of the present Board probably added but teral departments of learning and science. The little, if any, to the cost, in consequence of a rezeal, energy and abiding love of science animating duction in salaries, and the appointment of the mind of the author of this valuable paper are female teachers in some instances where males worthy of all praise, and ought to secure for him had previously been engaged. The full amount a measure of gratitude and regard more active and of monthly salaries paid at the close of the useful than a common expression of eulogy. It is year, in April, 1858, was about $1,550. At the such an elaborate and complete compendium of meteorological observations, so useful and convepresent time, the Secretary, in a recent publication, gives the sum paid monthly to fifteen teachers at $1,693. We make it from such figures as are at our command a little more than the Secretary, say about $1,735. As we have before shown, the monthly expenditures for teachers in 1854 was $1,215; in 1855-56, the highest rate per month, we think, was $1,325; in 1856-7, after having been somewhat modified by the Board, it was $1,550. The monthly cost of tuition alone, during each of those years, per scholar in regular attendance, was, in 1854-5, $2 62; in 1855-6, $2 63, nearly; in 1856-7, $2 54; in 1857-8, $2 57. To the general expenses of the present year, though not to the cost of tuition, the money paid out and liabilities assumed for the Franklin School House and lot, as well as for such other lots and houses as may have been purchased, may be properly added.

The cost of the Franklin is given by the Secretary at $16,800, exclusive, we understand, of over four hundred dollars, since audited by the of Clerk of the Supreme Court and members of Board of Education, to the architect for plan, Congress, which are not very fully returned at the superintendence, etc., and for over six hundred dollars audited to the contractors to make good his losses on certain warrants paid him. These sums would increase the cost of the building to near $18,000. In an investment of that character by an individual he would charge himself the interest monthly, which, at one and a half per cent. would amount to $270, or $3,240 per annum. But, large as this tax appears to be without making use of stamp paper for the bill of annually, it will doubtless prove a much better policy in the end than that of renting. The rental system ought never to be relied upon for school or other public buildings where it can possibly be avoided. Unless destroyed by fire, the Franklin School building may be used for a century. If there was error committed in building the Franklin it may be found in the size and receipts for stamps will come up this month to locality of the lot, and in the expensive charac-$10,000. In the suit of J. F. McCauley vs. the Govern Secretary of State and Lieut. Governor, which has been on trial in the county of Marin, on appeal, a verdict has been rendered against the former in the sum of $4,083, being damages for forcible entry and detainer in the matter of taking possession of the State Prison some time since, and for possession of the same. Treble damages being allowed in such cases, the total amount in which the Governor remains held is $12,249. The two other officers were freed by the verdict and will remain in possession, the jury probably considering that they acted under instructions of the Governor. The monthly rent awarded for the prison is $583.

The property of the city held in trust for the use of the Public Schools may be enumerated The evening before the departure of the last as follows

Acquired in 1854-5, one frame building, corner of G and Thirteenth streets; 1855-6, two city, and exchanged the usual farewell tokens, frame buildings, M and Fifth streets, and P street, between Second and Third; 1856-7, four | departure of the steamer at San Francisco. One building lots, G and Thirteenth streets, M and Seventeenth streets, N and Eleventh streets, his friends at his rooms with wine and other P street, between Second and Third; also one refreshments, until a late hour. Adjoining the one frame building corner of N and Seventh room in which the company met was the baggage streets; 1857-8, one frame building corner of of the traveler ready made up to be put on the N and Eleventh streets; also one brick building, with lot, L street, between Fifth and Sixth, The aggregate cost of the above is estimated from official documents at not far from $28,000. indispensable part of a Californian's equippage We have in past years expressed the opinion in 1849, and later), it might have been taken for that changing teachers, except for ample and positive cause, was a practice which operated adversely upon the prosperity of schools in any country. In the management of our schools, past Boards have not entirely avoided this evil, whilst it has been quite prominent during the administration of the present Board. The annual organization of a new Board of Directors is in itself no sufficient reason for a reorganization and change of teachers. However conscientious the motive may be for change, its effect upon the schools will ordinarily prove prejudicial. The situation of a teacher is one of peculiar responsibility and trying difficulty. His first struggles with the school committed to his charge are harrassing and perplexing, and test his capabilities more severely than do years of labor in the same field after the first trials are past, and after a mutual understanding between teacher and pupil has been fully established. When once settled in school, and having gained the control and won the love and respect of his pupils, and the confidence of their parents, it is always wrong-it is a real injury inflicted upon the cause of education to give place to another, however worthy, who has not in possessiou those essential attributes. Nor does the evil end here. It is a serious personal wrong inflicted upon the the teacher, when not long experience and universally admitted success but the caprices of an annually elected Board, are permitted to determine the duration of his services. Such a system is calculated to deaden the energy of the most devoted teacher, takes away the strongest incentive to exertion, and introduces confusion where all should be harmony and order. In the Directors elect, it is true, the power of appointment and removal must and should rest, but the latter ought to be exercised with great caution, and udicious selections for the former are much less satisfactorily determined by the result of a few hours examination, or the response given to dozen disconnected and oftentimes badly selected questions, than by the well known success and past acceptability of the applicant.

It is important, also, to select, if possible, men who propose to make teaching a profession rather than those who intend to make it subevils of change are none the less when caused ult., was the last arrival from China.
