NEWS OF THE MORNING. The Supreme Court delivered four decisions yesterday, one of which, relating to the important case of Stanly vs. Green et als., we publish to-day. This was an action of ejectment, to recover the possession of certain premises situated in the county of Napa. The plaintiff and the defendants claim under Nicholas Higuera, to whom a grant of a tract of land, subsequently designated as "Entre Napa," was made in May, 1886, by the then Governor of Upper California. The plaintiff traces his title through a deed from Higuera and wife to Matthew Fallom, executed November 13, 1847; a deed from Fallom and wife | tent, and when again opened they would reto Julius Martin, executed July 1, 1850, and a main in that condition for years, before a final deed from the Sheriff of Napa county, executed opinion could be obtained. The confirmation March 21, 1857, upon a sale made under an execution issued upon a judgment recovered against Martin. The judgment became a lien upon the premises, December 9, 1854, and by the deed the estate and interest which Martin possessed on that day passed to the plaintiff. The defendants claim through a deed from Higuera and wife to Ramon de la Riva, executed February 7. 1852, and a deed from Riva to Encarnacion Cacho, and Marta Frias, daughters of Higuers, repose upon land titles-that it does not so executed March 28, 1852. The daughters partitioned the property between themselves, October 13, 1852; after which, and on the 8th of November, 1852. Encarnacion conveyed her interest to the defendant Green, and on the 28th of June. 1854, Green conveyed a part of the land claimed by him under the deed from Encarnacion to the defendants, McKune, Crocker and Robinson, The other defendants are tenants of Frias, or Green, or McKune, Crocker and Robinson. The principal question presented for consideration relates to cept those attacked for fraud. Had that policy the description of the premises contained in the deed of Nov. 13, 1847, to Fallom, which the counsel of appellants insist is void, for uncertainty. Without following the Court through its reasoning on this point, we will state that it comes to the conclusion that the description is sufficiently definite for all legal purposes. The Court further holds that the title of the defendants is defective in its very origin. Even had the deed to Riva, and by him to the daughters, contained no exception in terms, neither they, or the other parties claiming through them, could have held the premises against the plaintiff. Riva was not a purchaser. He paid nothing for the conveyance. The conclusion of the Court is, that the defendants, McKune, Robinson and Crocker, are not entitled to protection as purchasers for value, without notice. The deed to them recites only a nominal consideration of ten dollars, and no proof of any other consideration was given or States at time the claim of Martin for the land in controversy was pending before the Land Commission, and, as such officer, he was present at the taking of deposition of Walker in relation to the same, and cross-examined the witness on the subject. It would, indeed, be unjust to charge McKune with notice of all proceedings, which his duties as an officer required him to take general charge of; but it is otherwise in relation to gation upon claims once confirmed. If the matters to which his attention was particularly called, and in which he directly and pesonally participated. The deed was drawn by him, and though his law partners, Crocker and Robinson, do not appear to have known of its execution until long afterwards, they must hold their interest subject to the same rights of third parties. The Court does not perceive any error, either in the refusal of the instructions requested, or in those given which operated to the prejudice of favorable to the defense as the facts justified.

The Hunter Quartz Mining Company, of Tuolumne county, have filed their articles of incorporation in the Secretary of State's Office. James Wallace, who was tried before the District Court of Yuba county in November last, convicted of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment, is pardoned by the Governor. The District Judge before whom the case was tried having filed an affidavit "expressing his firm belief that the prisoner is entirely innocent of any crime." The District Attorney who prosecuted, and nearly every member of the bar in Marvsville. and nearly every member of the jury who tried him, say that recent circumstances have satisfied them of his innocence.

An account of a battle with the Indians North -in which twenty warriors were killed, and two volunteers wounded; proceedings of the Legislature, yesterday; and a variety of interesting telegraphic and other news from the interior and San Francisco, will be noticed in our pages.

AN IMPOSING MOVEMENT. - A Caucus of some of the Administration members of the Assembly was holden, as we are informed, at ritory for it from Sacramento, and a small porthe Capitol, on Tuesday evening, when several | tion from San Joaquin. The plan, as we are matters were agitated which were supposed to be of vital interest to the aforesaid members, if not to the party. It appeared to be tacitly admitted that the majority had not, by their late course in the Legislature, obtained a very enviable position before the people, and sundry and divers projects were discussed, as to how they should recover the vantage ground which, it was conceived, they had lost. While members differed on the subject of the expediency of importing an organ into this locality to take charge of the destinies of the party, they all agreed that the institution of the Sac-RAMENTO UNION was "intolerable, and not to be endured." After a full and free interchange of opinion, it was finally resolved, if our information is correct, that the course of the Union had been very improper, that it had villified members of the Legislature, misrepresented the sentiments of the majority, and had given partial and garbled reports of the proceedings. It was also understood or stipulated, that this wicked propensity of the Union should be properly set forth to their respective constituents, so that they might not be misled or place too much confidence in its reports and representations. The document was passed around yesterday and signed by various members, some prominent Administration men, however, objecting to give it their signatures, adding that the movement was mere children's play and they would soon be ashamed of it. This pronunciamento, will, if we are not misinformed. be published this morning in the Administration organ in this city, provided it has not been deemed advisable to suppress it on more mature consideration.

BEATEN.-The new-modeled boat, built after the style of Winans' steamship, in Balti- year a licentiate by the authority of the Board more, was beaten recently in San Francisco bay by a Whitehall boat. Both crafts were manned by good oarsmen.

THE FULLER DIVORCE CASE .- The testimony in this case has been concluded, and the matter gone to argument. There was considerable rebutting testimony on both sides,

FRAUDULENT LAND CLAIMS. The substitute reported in the Senate for the original resolutions requesting Congress to pass an Act authorizing the United States

Courts to open all confirmed land claims, where it could be shown by proof that the confirmation was secured by fraud, came up as the special order yesterday, and elicited an able debate. Senators appeared to be divided into three classes-those who favored the original resolution, those who advocated the substitute. and those who opposed both. The Senator from San Francisco made a strong argument in favor of the substitute: the Senator from Mariposa argued earnestly against the substitute; the Senators from Yuba and Santa Cruz took ground against passing either the original resolution or the substitute, and advanced pretty cogent reasons why no action ought to be taken in the premises. We very much doubt the propriety or good policy of such legislation. It is calculated to add to the uncertainties of land titles in the State, to undo and overturn such decisions as have been made where land is involved. The probable effect would be to open claims to a considerable ex. of fraudulent land claims is a great public evil, where such have been confirmed, but the passage of the resolutions under consideration, it is thought by those who are conversant with the condition of titles in the State, would prove a greater public evil than the one for which it is proposed to furnish a remedy. The argument is, that the people of California need much matter which way the question is decided, provided certainty and permanence can be obtained. As was argued yesterday, it would have been worth millions to the State had Congress passed a law in 1851 confirming every legitimate grant ever issued in Upper California. That would have settled the question definitely as to all fair and legitimate grants, and left no cases open for contest ex-

been adopted the taxable property in the State in 1859 would have been at least fifty per cent.

greater than it now is. it with his evidence of title, Congress inflicted a grievous wrong upon California, and an outrageous invasion of the rights of native Califoras valid for half a century, who had been in possession of their land for generations, were forced to go before that commission and prove have been accidental. their title to land which belonged to their grandfathers. The process was long, tedious and expensive; in many instances one-half (sometimes three-fourths) of the value of their posssessions was consumed by Court costs and lawyer's fees. For this ruinous wrong inment of the United States, there is no remedy. The past cannot be reached, but the future can be provided for; the State can, through the Legislature, provide against the commission of a like wrong on her part. The Legislature can refrain from passing any Act which is calculated to again open up land litiresolution before the Senate will produce unnecessary litigation, it ought not to be passed. But if legislation must be had. cannot the end proposed by the resolution before the Senate be accomplished by other means? Is it not within the power of the Legislature to authorize parties in possession to defend by attacking the grant from the defendants. Taken together, they were as alleged, and, if necessary, go behind a Government patent in order to make the proof?

> the General Government holds, and nothing further. If it can be shown, in any given case, that said patent was obtained by fraud, the the holder. A single case would settle the facts, and the law in reference to any one Courts, the question as to that grant would be finally settled.

It may be objected that this, too, would open up litigation. This is true, and so will any legislation by the Legislature or by Congress, authorizing cases confirmed to be opened. We doubt the propriety or justice of any further legislation upon Mexican titles, but if it must come, let the power to investigate frauds connected therewith be conferred upon our State Courts. It is to them the people of California disputes in the State.

A NEW COUNTY .- Petitions have been in circulation in the southern pertion of this county, and we understand, have been quite exten sively signed, praying the Legislature to create a new county by taking a large portion of terinformed, is to run a line from a point some twelve miles below the city, on the river, due east to the Cosumnes; thence, east to put into it a quantity of powder, which would Amador, or up the river to the line of El Dorado. On the south, the new county to be bounded on the San Joaquin river to the Mok- should not jump. The result was, the stove elumne, thence up that river to the line of Calaveras. It is stated that this would give it a territory of six hundred square miles, with population sufficient to support a County Goverment. We have not heard whether there is any opposition to the move among the people in the south end of the county; if there are those who do not sanction the move, they ought to send in their remonstrance before the Legislature is called upon to act.

We hardly suppose the people in other portions of the county will quietly acquiesce in this arrangement. They are not anxious to have the county divided and shorn of its strength, politically and financially. As the county now stands, it is nearly in the first class; divide it, and it will become about a third rate. At any rate, those of our citizens who feel interested in the matter will probably give this proposition a portion of their attention. San Joaquin, we believe, is opposed to the move.

RESPONSIBLE PILOTS .- Under the existing Pilot Law, nineteen out of the twenty Pilots appointed by the Commissioner at San Francisco are not legal officers, and cannot be held accountable for loss or injury of the ship or cargo. Mr. Johnson, of Sierra, yesterday introduced a bill into the Assembly to remedy this defect. It provides for legal appointees, commissioned by the Board, who have been three years masters of a square-rigged vessel, or two years a hand on a pilot boat, or one of Commissioners.

A NEW METHOD .- The Pound-Keeper in San Francisco lassoed a favorite dog belonging to a Frenchman, named Louis Farrier, a few days since. To get even, the Frenchman impounded the officer in his store, until he was released by the Police.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26. After my report closed last night a committee was appointed at the anti-Santillan meeting, composed of John McDougal, W. H. Shaw, J. B. Bidleman, James Fowler, J. B. Badger, J. C. Beideman, T. O. Shaw, Henry Yerke, James Donohue, J. Street, Milo Hoadley, and George Treat. The statements of Green are creating some excitement.

The Fuller divorce case, tried in open Court, was brought to a close to-day in the Twelfth District Court. Judge Norton delivered an able charge to the jury, reviewing the main testimony, elucidating the duties of the jury, laying down the law, and directing the nature of the verdict to be returned. The jury retired about half-past 11 o'clock, and came into Court at 12 o'clock to-day, acquitting Fuller of all the charges brought against him, and finding Mrs. Fuller guilty of adultery. A divorce will be granted him.

From the Northern Californian, extra, of Jan. 22d, published at Uniontown, Humboldt county, we have the following :

A BLOW UP IN NEVADA .- We learn from the Democrat that a few days since one Sam. Groves advised the proprietor of the Reveille Saloon, in Nevada, who had a smoky stove, to effectually expel the soot. He did so, Groves at the time holding the "critter," so that i was blown to pieces, and Groves was hoisted like the engineer, with "his own petard." A soon as he lighted on his feet he made 2.40 tracks to Selby Hill, where he resides. He has not shown himself in town since. It is said he was burned, or bruised some.

THE SANTILLAN OR BOLTON TITLE IN SAN FRANCISCO.—The following is a deposition from Padre Santillan, now at Mazatlan, showing the character of the present title:

I, the presbyter bachelor Don José Prudencio Santillan, ex-curate of the city of San Francisco de Asis, in Alta California, certify and swear before the Consul, who subscribes to this, that the title, known by the name of Santillan or Bolton, which claims the ex-mission of Dolores, was not made in the year 1846, but the year 1850, in the dission of Santa Clara; to which fact I can tes offy in this port of Mazatlan, only in case of necessity, before the legal commission of the courts of the United States of North America. So soon as that Government may command an application to be made to me, I will give all the proofs in this control of the court of the cour n this place, where I reside, to establish the nullity of the said title, provided that those courts shall decide the case in favor of the Apostolic oman Catholic Church and public instruction.
Port of Mazatlan, 13th March, 1857.

SUICIDE IN CONTRA COSTA.—Caroline Korb died suddenly at the village of Alamo, Contra Costa county, on the 8th of January. The Martinez Gazette says:

Dr. Howard, who called to see the patient thought the symptoms similar to those caused by strychnine, and subsequent developments ave but little doubt that such was the fact. The body was taken to San Francisco for interment and upon the return of the friends, a rumon gained currency to the effect that upon a close detail of all the symptoms and circumstances of the case, high medical authority had decided that death took place by disease and not poison. This, however, turns out to be a mistake, and sufficient evidence has been discovered to show that it was a case of self-poisoning, the deceased using strychnine to accomplish her purpose. Several causes are assigned for the committal of the rash act, the most prominent being that the deceased had a quarrel with her intended husband the night previous to taking the strych-

DEATH FROM EXPOSURE .- A correspondent of the Napa Reporter, writing from Anderson's Valley, states that on the 4th of January the little son of a man named Ralson, aged about four years, strayed away from home. His course was traced by his tracks for some distance, and, as fresh tracks of bears were at the same time discovered, fearful apprehensions were entertained for his fate. The whole valley turned out in search of the missing child, and on the second day after his disappearance, about sunset, he was found about a mile from the father's house. He seemed to have been in the creek, and was so chilled by exposure that he died on the following

Upon such state alleging and charging him with drawing deadly weapons with intent to do bodily harm, and not ir necessary self-defense. Swift surrendered himself, and appeared before the Court on the 24th, and continue the trial of the same until the 26th. Hodgden changed and modified his charge, by filing complaint alleging an assault only. Upon the trial, Hodgden was exam ined as a witness, testified that Swift took his pistol out of his pocket, but made no demonstration with the same; failed to make out a case of assault. Swift was by the Court adjudged not guilty of the charge. So it is apparent that Hodgden swore one thing to get out the warrant and quite another before Court on the trial. He acknowledged after the trial that he procured the issuance of the warrant as a matter of spite: that he did not expect to convict Swift, but wished to annoy him. What, swear falsely to annoy Swift! This is splendid example of consistency, truth and veracity, and of preserving the peace. The public may judge the character of the man who will thus testify for
