Teletographic News.

San Francisco, July 27.

A letter from San Francisco, July 26, states that Charles Bell Smith has been arrested on a charge of forgery and false pretenses.

The letter reports that Smith was operating a fraudulent insurance business, and that he has been using false names and addresses to defraud his clients.

The letter also states that Smith has been arrested and held for trial.

The letter further reports that Smith has been associated with various other fraudulent business practices in the past, and that he has been convicted of fraud in several instances.

The letter concludes by stating that Smith is expected to be tried and convicted of the current charges of forgery and false pretenses.

San Francisco, July 27.

A letter from San Francisco, July 26, states that Charles Bell Smith has been arrested on a charge of forgery and false pretenses.

The letter reports that Smith was operating a fraudulent insurance business, and that he has been using false names and addresses to defraud his clients.

The letter also states that Smith has been arrested and held for trial.

The letter further reports that Smith has been associated with various other fraudulent business practices in the past, and that he has been convicted of fraud in several instances.

The letter concludes by stating that Smith is expected to be tried and convicted of the current charges of forgery and false pretenses.

San Francisco, July 27.

A letter from San Francisco, July 26, states that Charles Bell Smith has been arrested on a charge of forgery and false pretenses.

The letter reports that Smith was operating a fraudulent insurance business, and that he has been using false names and addresses to defraud his clients.

The letter also states that Smith has been arrested and held for trial.

The letter further reports that Smith has been associated with various other fraudulent business practices in the past, and that he has been convicted of fraud in several instances.

The letter concludes by stating that Smith is expected to be tried and convicted of the current charges of forgery and false pretenses.

San Francisco, July 27.

A letter from San Francisco, July 26, states that Charles Bell Smith has been arrested on a charge of forgery and false pretenses.

The letter reports that Smith was operating a fraudulent insurance business, and that he has been using false names and addresses to defraud his clients.

The letter also states that Smith has been arrested and held for trial.

The letter further reports that Smith has been associated with various other fraudulent business practices in the past, and that he has been convicted of fraud in several instances.

The letter concludes by stating that Smith is expected to be tried and convicted of the current charges of forgery and false pretenses.

San Francisco, July 27.

A letter from San Francisco, July 26, states that Charles Bell Smith has been arrested on a charge of forgery and false pretenses.

The letter reports that Smith was operating a fraudulent insurance business, and that he has been using false names and addresses to defraud his clients.

The letter also states that Smith has been arrested and held for trial.

The letter further reports that Smith has been associated with various other fraudulent business practices in the past, and that he has been convicted of fraud in several instances.

The letter concludes by stating that Smith is expected to be tried and convicted of the current charges of forgery and false pretenses.

San Francisco, July 27.

A letter from San Francisco, July 26, states that Charles Bell Smith has been arrested on a charge of forgery and false pretenses.

The letter reports that Smith was operating a fraudulent insurance business, and that he has been using false names and addresses to defraud his clients.

The letter also states that Smith has been arrested and held for trial.

The letter further reports that Smith has been associated with various other fraudulent business practices in the past, and that he has been convicted of fraud in several instances.

The letter concludes by stating that Smith is expected to be tried and convicted of the current charges of forgery and false pretenses.