the following information: Death of Mr. Anderson!—One Hundred and forty-eight Indians killed!!

Weaverville, Trinity county, Sunday, April 25, 1852.

Quite an excitement was created here some ten days since, in consequence of the disappearance and probable murder of a much esteemed citizen, Mr. Anderson, who was supposed to have been attacked by Indians while driving some cattle from his ranch, some twelve miles distant, to this place; his horse having come in iderless, and the saddle being much broken and stained with blood.

A company of twenty-five, under command of Captain Dixon, started in pursuit of the Indians and in search of the body of Mr. Anderson, which was discovered in a cluster of bushes son, which was discovered in a cluster of bushes near the spot where he had been attacked. The body was entirely stripped and horribly mutihated. There were some seventeen or eighteen arrow wounds in different parts of the body, the arrows still remaining in many of them.

discovered the rancheria, in a small valley at of the South Fork of Trinity River. At midnight the company started from their encampment, Captain Dixon having divided his force into three parties, so as to come upon the Indians from different quarters and surround them. When the day broke all the parties were in the desired positions, and on the signal being given the attack commenced. Each rifle marked its victim with unerring precision—the pistol and the knife completed the work of destruction and revenge, and in a few brief moments all was over. Of the one hundred and fifty Indians that constituted the rancheria, only two or three escaped, and those were supthe base of three mountains on the south side only two or three escaped, and those were sup-posed to be dangerously wounded; so that probly not one of those engaged in the murder of the unfortunate Anderson now remains alive. Men, women and children all shared the same fate-none were spared except one woman and two children who were brought back prisoners. It may seem barbarous and cruel to some that the helpless woman and the innocent child should be thus sacrificed. But I am informed that the Indians when attacked placed the women and children in front and shot at their assailants from behind them as from behind a barricade, so that it was necessary to shoot the women in order to get at the men.
