

Arrival of the Steamer Columbia. The Indian War—Battle with Defeat of the Indians in Southern Oregon—Successful Campaign of the Red Man in the North—Disbanding of Volunteers—Outrages on Friendly Indians—Movements of Troops, &c.

The U. S. Mail Steamer Columbia arrived at the Bay on Sunday morning, with files of Oregon papers to the 15th May. She brings a number of passengers, among whom are some officers of the Army.

From Southern Oregon. DEFEAT OF THE INDIANS ON ROGUE RIVER.—From Mr. Bradbury, of the South, we learn that the volunteers, numbering 250, under Gen. Lamerick, surprised a band of Indians encamped on a bar of Rogue river, near the meadows, and fired upon them, killing about thirty and completely routed the remainder.

The volunteers lost none, and had two wounded, one (a Mr. Mercer, of Capt. Wilkinson's company) badly, and it is feared mortally. He was brought into the hospital at Deer Creek, and it is thought has died before this.

The Indians fought for some time, but finally retreated. From the same source we learn that the volunteers, after the capture of the steamer, were ordered to follow, hoping to strike an effectual blow. The volunteers captured ten horses.

Mr. Bradbury also states that a Mr. Harless, of Grave Church, while carrying an express from Grave Creek to Gen. Lamerick, was fired upon; he fell from his horse and was horribly wounded by the Indians while alive, as the wound was not mortal.

From Northern Oregon. THE CAMPAIGN IN THE NORTH SPENDED.—The Oregonian of the 10th May, says: Col. Cornelius and Adjutant Farrar arrived in this city on Saturday morning, on Friday, the 8th inst. From the Colonel we learn that all the volunteers—except Capt. Cason's company of Clackamas county, whose time has not yet expired—are en route for the valley, to be discharged. By the orders of Gov. Curry two companies were to be enrolled next week, and the rest of the volunteers were to be discharged.

Col. Cornelius and his command have done all that it was possible to do; they nobly responded to the call, they bravely performed their services, they endured the exposure and fatigue of a cold, inclement winter; they are left, by somebody—to provision themselves—and when they arrive they are taunted with shallow brains, with "what have you done?" &c.; they are left to thank themselves for the important services rendered the country; no executive official is present to commend them for their noble and patriotic conduct; they are left to be taunted with shallow brains, with "what have you done?" &c.; they are left to thank themselves for the important services rendered the country; no executive official is present to commend them for their noble and patriotic conduct.

A Voice from Granite Hill—The People Speaking.

GRANITE HILL, May 18, 1856. EDITORS UNION:—The following is a copy of the proceedings of a meeting of the citizens of Granite Hill, El Dorado county, held on the 15th of May inst., for the purpose of expressing their abhorrence and detestation of the late murderous attempt upon the life of James King of Wm. editor of the San Francisco Evening Bulletin:

Resolved, That in James King, the honest and industrious farmer, true friend and champion, ever ready to defend the right however humble, and condemn the wrong however exalted; in this he has our hearty approval, and as the conductor of public journals, exposing the vices and immoralities of ballot box stuffers, shoulder-strikers and gamblers, who had stolen the liver of heaven in which to carry on their nefarious designs, he has our hearty approval.

Resolved, That to James King of Wm. and family we tender the sincere grief and sympathy of this community for their misfortune—the late murderous attempt of a felon to deprive the community of the services of this family of their natural protector and support.

Resolved, We sincerely hope that under the blessing of Providence he may yet live to accomplish the regeneration of the land of his adoption.

Resolved, That a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be furnished the San Francisco Evening Bulletin, and the Sacramento Union, for publication. Adjourned sine die.

J. LONGWORTH, Chairman. H. BARBER, Secretary.

Correspondence from Michigan Bar. Fighting Affairs—Piscine Party and Schools—The Mines—A Shocking Accident—Thunder Shower.

MICHIGAN BAR, May 19, 1856. MESSRS. EDITORS:—Last evening a Dutchman and a Yankee got into a quarrel, which resulted in a knock down and much talk about shooting. The Yankee drew a knife and the Dutchman hit him with a poker. As usual, a woman was at the foot (or heart) of the affair. This town is acquiring a notoriety for being a fighting place. On Sunday before last, one gambler struck another over the head with a pistol, cutting him very severely.

On Saturday last the school children here had a picnic, and a handsome affair it was—more humor, perhaps, but as happy as the more costly "get ups" of your city. Some seventy-five children and grown people assembled and marched to a grove near the school house. Here seats and swings had been built and tables prepared.

The Rev. Mr. Hill, of Cook's Bar, addressed a few words to the collection, and Mr. Royce took a dramatic view of the scene. He gave, where seats and swings had been built and tables prepared. INDIAN TROUBLES IN THE SOUTH.—A correspondent of the Volcano Ledger, writing from Kern river, says: It seems the Indians are very much dissatisfied with their treatment at the Tejon Reservation, as the promises of the Government have not been fulfilled by her agents. The whole system of managing the Indians is a notorious humbug. Fair promises and plenty of them, contented at one time a large body of Indians on this Reservation. Mismanagement, incapacity, or some other radical defect in the system, soon brought the Indians to the verge of rebellion.
