NEWS OF THE MORNING

The labors of the Convention of Quartz Miners were yesterday brought to a close in this city, and a California Quartz Miners' Association permanently formed. The proceedings of the Convention were not characterized by any act worthy of sons for the seeming unanimity which marks its note, with the exception of the report of a basis upon which the Association was formed. This object was carried into effect after the adjournment sine die of the Convention. Permanent officers of the Association were elected, and the California Mining Journal, printed at Grass Valley, recognized as the official organ of the Association. Among other officers elected was a Register and Curator, whose office is to be located at Russville, in this county. This office will be a kind of depot for specimens and information connected with the different quartz mines throughout the State. The Society is of a character similar to the Agricultural Society of the State, and through its organ will be enabled doubtless to lay much valuable information before the public. Although the number of members is as yet small, there is every reason to believe that in the course of time, as its objects become known, the whole body of quartz miners in California will connect themselves with the newly organized Society.

WHY IS IT DELAYED ?-After a full and fair investigation, a committee of the late Council reported that a bill for printing the city delinquent tax list had been made out in the name of the City Printer for about $700 more than should have been charged under the contract. The report of the committee was adopted, and a resolution passed instructing the City Attorney to commence suit to recover healt the monopolizing the stocks of many of the leading articles to commence suit to recover back the money, which the Council had ordered to be paid, under the impression that it was correct. Up to this time, however, we have heard of no suit having been commenced. Why is it delayed? The City Attorney, we hear, entertains doubts whether he can recover. But he is instructed to sue; it is his duty to bring suit, and if he exerts himself to recover and then fails because the law is against him, the people will be satisfied that he has discharged his duty as a public officer. If he fails to do this, the conclusion will be that he has not only neglected his duty, but has done so under suspicious circumstances. The money was wrongfully paid to the State Journal, which street lamps a few nights. If the money had been wrongfully paid to this paper, a suit for its recovery would have followed in double quick time; but as the spoils are in the hands of warm to assume that this "depression of trade" is the result of the Vigilance organization of last year, is so absurd and ridiculous as scarcely to entitle the assertion to serious consideration.

The market for goods in San Francisco described by the command, went out with four regulars and a guide to a point some twenty-five miles above the terry, on Pitt River, and came suddenly upon a rancheria. When the savages saw them they at once ran, and in passing the whites a firing was commenced, in which Lieut Crooks was shot with an arrow in the political friends, the legal adviser of the city is doubtful whether he can find any law which | State and upon the Pacific coast generally. That will force them to disgorge their public plunder. If no law can be found under which the holders can be made to pay the money back into the Treasury, perhaps the City Attorney can find a statute under which they can be indicted for sale of merchandise, except at a ruinous sacriobtaining money under false pretences.

THE GULNAC CLAIM .- Monday next, June 22d, has been set for the trial of the title to some very valuable property lying in San Francisco. in the Fourth District Court. The Alta says the land in controversy includes the frontage of the entire south side of Sacramento street, from Montgomery to Kearny streets, and fifty varas in depth. The plaintiff claims title through Wm. Gulnac, who, he alleges, obtained a grant of the premises from the authorities of Yerba Buena, in December, 1838. He claims a judgment of ejectment against the defendants, some fifty in number, who are in possession, together with $400,000 damages for the unlawful detention of the premises. Eighteen separate answers were put in, each one denying all the allegations of the complaint; and as further matters of defense, setting up a quiet possession on the part of the defendants and those from whom they ceding the commencement of the action, and denying that the plaintiff or his grantor had been seized or possessed of the land at any time within the last ten years. This suit was commenced several years since, and has been already tried three times.

APPOINTMENT OF NOTARIES PUBLIC.-Yesterday, June 19th, the following additional Notaries Public were appointed by the Governor, and the trade of California-and they cannot be recommissioned

A. P. Skaniker, Lagrange, Stanislaus county. A. Elkins, J. P. Van Hagan, Nevada, Nevada county.

W. B. Osborn, Los Angeles, Los Angeles coun

Jack W. Smith, Napa, Napa county. Geo. Waterman, Yreka, Siskiyou county. D. R. Ashley, Monterey, Monterey county

WHY DON'T THEY ACT .- The Legislature during its last session passed an Act donating to the city of Sacramento the swamp land in Sutter Lake, upon certain conditions. One of those conditions is that the Council shall move in the matter, and the question is-why don't that body act in the matter?

CANDIDATES IN BUTTE .- The North Californian gives the following as some of the Democratic candidates for office in that county:

For Senate-J. S. Long, ex-Assemblyman, and W. Buffum, one of the Supervisors. For Assessor—James Hitchings, of Oregon Gulch, and Mr. Weaver, of Hamilton. For Treasurer—H. he makes a very bad failure equally as suddenly J. Morrison, ex-Assemblyman.

DEPRESSION OF TRADE.

In presenting the condition of business in San Francisco, and reviewing the causes of such a number do not now consume as many goods as stagnation in trade, the Herald writes:

We believe it will be generally admitted by bu-We believe it will be generally admitted by bu-siness men that, at least during the past year, mer-cantile affairs have never presented so unpromis-ing an aspect as at present. It is a common phrase on the streets, that "the town is broke," and while it is not to be denied that such a sentiment is the result of the disappointment of the mercantile community, as a class, with the result of the operations of the first six months of the vear 1857, it may not be out of place to inquire how far the idea is correct, and what are the rea-enunciation at the present time.

That business, at present, is dull to a degree almost without a parallel, we are free to admit. It will be acknowledged by all; but we do not see that it is no much worse than might have been any whit be acknowledged by all; but we do not see that it is so much worse than might have been anticipated, were the merchants of San Francisco disposed to look at the truth, instead of continually peering forward into a future where the shipment of goods from the East would stop, and supplies here rup short. In other words were they to work

The effects of the Vigilance Committee on the business prospects of San Francisco, during the year 1856, no one can pretend to deny. It broke up and utterly annihilated the country demand, and by the incommittee of the property of the process. and by the insecurity of property which it incul-cated, first taught the country traders that instead of a six months, they were always safe in buying a six weeks stock of staple merchandise.

The Vigilance Committee organization continued throughout the whole of the spring and summer, and lasted sufficiently into the fall of 1856, to destroy the demand which ought to have set in at that period.

We say that this state of affairs was attributable, in a very great measure, to the local occurrences of the year 1856; and, in the present extraordina-ry depression of trade in this city, we see the nat-ural results of the working of the same system. In sugar, flour, rice, tea, coffee, barley, &c., and rates were immediately advanced from twenty-five to one hundred per cent. What was the result? The inexorable Nemesis of their own acts followed hem. The country traders, instructed by the conthem. The country traders, instructed by the conduct of our own merchants not to depend upon business combinations here, refused steadily to buy except for the supply of their immediate actual wants, and within the past fortnight we have witnessed the anomoly of a market tumbling fifty per cent. on its staple articles without any more apparent reason than the inherent weakness of operators. Was such a speciales ever presented erators? Was such a spectacles ever presented before in any large mercantile city in the world? We humbly opine not.

That an "extraordinary depression of trade" prevails in San Francisco, is a fact admitted by is given as follows: the Herald. But it is neither a new nor an astonishing fact, to those who are in the habit of is abundantly able to refund. The sum would tracing effects to their causes. For the Herald

The market for goods in San Francisco depends upon the demand in the interior of the city is the natural depot for the goods needed for consumption on this coast, and, to a limited extent, for the demand in the Pacific Islands. Beyond this demand it is impossible to force the fice, as speculators have found to their sorrow. Being situated so far from the source from which she obtains her own supplies, her market must necessarily be subjected to sudden fluctuations in the quantity of goods on hand between any given dates, and a consequent rapid fluctuation in the price of various articles of merchandise on hand. This results from her location, and from the disposition of merchants and shippers to take risks in the form of shipments to a disgreat number of miles intervening between the producer and consumer of goods in California, renders it impossible to regulate the could be found. They are supposed to belong high hand by the demand, as all purchases for importation must be ordered months before they can reach the consumer. The quantity ordered, long since. therefore, can never be ascertained until shipped, and even then only an approximate knowledge two hundred Indians about four miles above Las-

San Francisco stocks. The conditions imposed by natural causes upon the trade of California—and they cannot be removed until she produces for herself—render the profession of the importing merchant and jober more exciting and perilous than in any other country on the globe. His heavy stock of this week he knows may be reduced so much in price by the arrivals in a single week, as to re- yesterday, June 19th: duce its value from twenty-five to fifty per cent., and hence he becomes uneasy, and prepared for cause he finds the circumstances by which he is surrounded bid defiance to all calculations of cannot rely upon it, and he becomes from calculation-from a desire also to get rich in a daya speculating merchant-a gambler in tradethe price of a certain article, at a figure which in due time. will enable him to make a sudden fortune. But he makes a very bad failure equally as suddenly. The temptations to engage in mercantile speculations are great in California-almost irresistible in many cases. They are also founded upon the enormous distance we are from our regular sources of supply. Operators learn as near as possible the quantity of an article in the market, then buy up every pound, and take the chances of a rapid increase by fresh arrivals. Combinations have been formed to buy up almost every staple article in the State during the past few not more than thirty of them will be allowed months, and in nearly every instance the operations have terminated disastrously. Coffee, rice and flour, may be taken as illustrations. The losses upon these articles have been immensely during the past three years, in this port. But in enumerating them we shall leave out the Vigilance question, which had no more influence upon the demand for consumption in the country than it did upon the tide in the harbor. From the first location of the city, everything in San Francisco has been upon an extravagant scale. Trade has been overdone; the city overbuilt; the taxes, until lately, excruciating, and family ranch, thirty-seven miles below the city, on the extravagance ruinous. Complaints are also made here of the dull times-of the depression of trade-of the scarcity of money, &c.; but we hardly suppose any one will render himself so supremely ridiculous as to charge these effects to the Vigilance organization of last year in San Francisco. The Herald should make another step in absurdity, and charge the Vigilance Committee organization as the cause of the drouth which has prevailed in California since last March.

F. V. MOORE, THE MURDERER .- The respite of Moore, the murderer, was received by the Sheriff of Nevada county, on Wednesday last. As this was neither known nor expected, hundreds of the subject, says:

INDIAN OUTBREAKS AND TROUBLES IN THE NORTH. -The Red Bluffs Beacon, of Wednesday, June 17th, contains from two different quarters accounts of Indian outrages and murders in that vicinity. The first comes from Pitt River, and

From Mr. Simeon Oldom, we learn that anothe threak of the Indians is anticipated in the vicin-of Pitt River. He says that on the morning of the 7th June, Lieut Crooks, of Capt. Judah's which Lieut. Crooks is the true grit, and is determined to thrash them soundly or drive them beyond the limits where they have committed ground the limits where the ground grou ted so many depredations.

The Beacon then gives an account of another affair which occurred at Antelope Mills, twentyfive miles east of Red Bluffs, on Friday morning, June 12th. That paper says:

It seems that two men lived in a cabin som three miles from the mill, who were engaged in making shingles in the pinery. One of the men went out a little distance from the cabin to a went out a little distance from the caoin to a deer-lick, to hunt. NEVADA MINING .- We find the following mining intelligence in the Nevada Journal of

A rich and apparently extensive lead of quartz was discovered about 31 miles above the city, on the north side of Deer Creek, sometime since, by speculations of a most desperate character. He Mr. Beach. Recently nine tons of the rock were quits the legitimate field of the merchant, be- raised and crushed, which yielded near $1,200. The lode is about fourteen inches in thickness, is decomposed and easy to be worked, has a fine surrounded bid defiance to all calculations of drainage, and has been traced already several hundred feet. The quality of the gold is not so experience. The market is so unstable that he pure as in some other lodes round about, having ear twenty-five per cent. of silver, but this is taken by some quartz miners as one of the best indications of a durable and profitable lode. After receiving the guests in due form, the engine After receiving the guests in due form, the engine of the Vigilants was manned by the members of Engine Companies Nos. 1 and 3, and their tender by Neptune Hose, whereupon the Vigilants fell in in the rear and were escorted through the thoroughfares of the city. The parade concluded, the guests and participants in the reception dined at the Dawson House. The display was certainly very creditable, two brass bands alternately affording enlivening music. In the evening the Vigilants attended the benefit of Hose Company No. 1, at the National. According to the organ they "will be invited to partake of a breakfast" this morning, and leave for San Francisco on the steamer Eclipse to-day. From what we learn of their experience since leaving home, we have no steamer Echipse to-day. From what we learn of their experience since leaving home, we have no doubt they will be pleased to return to their own stamping ground as soon as possible.

GYMNASTICS.—The Sacramento Turn-Verein will celebrate their third anniversary, by a ball at Vauxhall Garden, this evening. As the name imports, the society was instituted for the physical mprovement of the members. It is gratifying, in iew of the benefits resulting, that the organization has been so long sustained. Nothing so much conduces to longevity and mental alacrity as regur, positive exercise, conducted system lar, positive exercise, conducted systematically. The second anniversary of the institution of the Sacramento Gymnasium, by F. B. Van Vleck, will be duly observed on the 14th July next, by public exhibition, at one of the theaters in this city. On that occasion the public will be afforded an opportunity of estimating, in the performances of some twenty of the pupils, the degree of culture of which the physical man is susceptible. A GRAVE MISTARE.-A captain of one of our iver steamers, on the upward trip on Wednesday last, when the thermometer ranged somewhere in the neighborhood of 105, discovered what he supposed to be the body of a man lying in the drift about three miles below Fremont. On arriving at Fremont he mentioned the circumstance, and preparations were immediately commenced for the recovery and interment of the body. A respectable coffin having been prepared, parties were on the point of digging a grave, but desisted, it being suggested that the weather was pretty warm, and it might be as well to await the recovery of the body. Two boats were then manual with the Two boats were then manned with three men each and proceeded to the spot where the re-mains were said to have been seen, but on arriving mains were said to have been seen, but on arriving there nothing could be discovered except the carcass of a black hog, wholly divested of bristles. CONSISTENCY-SUPREME JUDGE

Messes. Editors :- I observe that your neighbor of the State Journal is violently opposed to the comination of Col. Weller for Governor, on the ground that he receives the support of the Vigilance Committee party and its sympathizers. It is well known that Col. Weller made a speech in Congress against the Committee, which brought down upon him the opposition of that organization, and all the papers in its interest and support.

It is, also, well understood, that the Jou It is, also, well understood, that the Journal office clique is in favor of the nomination of John H. McKune as a candidate for the office of Supreme Judge. It is quite notorious in this community, not only that McKune was an ardent supporter of the Vigilance Committee during the Prince Committee during the P the Vigilance Committee during the reign terror, but that he favored the Committee by terror, but that he favored the Committee by his votes and course during the entire session of the late Legislature. So notorious is this, that the San Francisco Sun formally read him out of the party before the Legislature adjourned; yet we now find this set of men openly supporting McKune in notoriously doing that for which Col. Weller is condemned, because he may have some friends implicated in it.

If Col. Weller is unsound because he has Vigilantie friends, how can Vigilante McKune be ac-

THE STAR BY DAY LIGHT. - The Nevada Journal, in alluding to the excitement produced by the anticipated visit of the comet on the 13th, remarks:

Venus was plainly to be seen with the naked eye through the day, to the astonishment of some of the manifest destiny race, but not the child of nature, the untutored Digger. these, on being shown the planet and informed of the predicted concussion, curled his lips in-credulously, and told a knot of his exterminators, that it was a sell-" Indian see him all the

THE SACRAMENTO BRIDGE.-We find in the San Francisco Sun, of June 18th, the following ar-

We learn that the parties to whom was given, by an act of the Legislature at its last session. the franchise of erecting a draw-bridge over the Sacramento river at the City of Sacramento, have entered into the preliminaries of a contract for the building of the bridge, with the celebrated bridge-builder and architect, H. R. Leonard, of this city. The papers for the contract are all drawn up, and will probably be signed in the course of a day or two. According to the terms of the contract, the entire work must be completed by the 1st of December next, and it is the intention of the contractor to commence the building of the bridge on or before the 1st of next month. Leonard takes the contract at $70,000, and will doubtless make it a work worthy of his high renown as a bridge-builder. There will be two revolving draws, opening a space of seventy-five feet each, and each to be opened at the same time by one man, in a minute and for-ty-seven seconds of time. Thus the great objection to a bridge over the Sacramento at that point, will be entirely obviated, as the steamers and sail vessels will experience no more delay, hardly, than if there was no bridge built. bridge, when completed, will be the most extensive and important work of the kind in the State, and will be of incalculable benefit to Sacramento and surrounding counties

PARDON .- Yesterday, June 19th, Charles Hannan, convicted of robbery in the Court of Sessions of San Francisco county, at the August term, 1856, and sentenced to four years confinement in the State Prison, was pardoned upon the application of the Court, the District Attorney, part of the Jury and others.

It having been stated that the members of the New York Legislature shed tears when they adjourned, Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, re There appeared to be some doubt whether they wept at parting from each other, or because their opportunities for clutching the public money were at an end. It is said they were the only people in the State that were at all distressed ipon the occasion.
