Sacramento, January 13th, 1858. Sacramento, January 18th, 1858.

TO PERSONS WHO ARE LOSING THEIR HAIR OR TO PERSONS WHO HAVE LOST IT—I publish this statement for their benefit. I am an old resident of San Francisco; my name is John Moran, baker of the Ploneer Bakery, corner of Powell and Broadway. For many years I have been bald; I tried every thing that I could think of to get some hair on my head, but it was all of no use; I heard of Dr. Davis, corner of Stockton and Washington streets, and now I have as good a head of hair as any man in this city. The doctor has restored it to me in a short time, and to the astonishment of all my friends, as the city nearly all know me that I was quite bald. I return thanks to Dr. Davis, and think it nothing but right to publish such a skilful man as he is in all cases. During my time of going to the doctor's office, I have seen him perform some most wonderful cures of every kind.

Yours, respectfully,

DR. DAVIS' Office is now No. 15 L street, between 2d and 3d, Sacaamento.

SACRAMENTO DAILY UNION. The Sacramento Daily Union was started in March, 1851, and entered upon its Fourteenth Volume on the 19th of September, 1857. It was established as a newspaperdesigned for circulation throughout the entire State, and this object having been steadily kept in view, it has attained a position enjoyed by no other California journal. Ita growth in public favor is without a parallel, and may be ascribed to the unremitted attention bestowed upon the news department, its unrestrained discussion of every measure of public policy, and the system everywhere ob. served in its business relations. No expense has been spared when it became necessary to secure the lates! fullest and most authentic information, and from the data of its establishment, nothing of moment has occurred in this State which is not to be found in the columns of the Union. The unlimited use of the Magnetic Telegraph which has been steadily continued, gave a great impetus to its circulation, which has since been largely enhanced by the exclusive publication in full, and immediately upon their delivery, of all the Opinions of the Supreme Court both branches of the Legislature-peculiar to this paper both branches of the Legislature—peculiar to this paper alone; and the immediate insertion of all Laws passed by he Legislature—which being done by private enterprise, is a feature to be found in no other paper in the United States. Superadded to these considerations, may be mentioned the issuance of a semi-monthly Supplement containing fourteen columns of Atlantic news, which accompanies the Dainy Union the arrival of each of the mail steamers from the East.

With these vast additions within the limits of California, proportionate increase has been made in its corps of Atlantic Correspondents, thereby rendering the columns of the Union in this respect among the most attractive of leading California journals. The recent outlays of money furnish the best assurance of future efforts which can be given; as to the patrons whose support has been so lavishly extended—more particularly within the last year—we can only say that those efforts will be in no can be given; as to the patrons whose support has bean so lavishly extended—more particularly within the last year—we can only say that those efforts will be in no wise abated. While returning sincere acknowledgments, we can safely assure them that with the growth and development of California, will be added new features to the columns of the Union. To their generous support is it indebted for the high position it now occupies, and with their aid, its future career will be UPWARD AND ONWARD.

Its growth in public favor is scarcely schind that of the Daily Usiox, containing as it does all the important matter which during the week appears in the columns of the Daily. With its furnished without additional charge, the Supplement of Atlantic news twice a month, and also a weekly Supplement containing eighteen additional columns of Legislative Reports alone—so that every other week the subscriber receives sixty-eight large columns of reading matter, and every week during the session of the Legislature fifty-four columns—more than double the quantity of any other weekly publication in the State. In it appears all the current news of the day—State as well as local, Atlantic, European, Oregon, Mexican, Central American, South American, Pacific Islands, Asiatic and Australian intelligence.
