SACRAMENTO DAILY UNION.

TUESDAY, APRIL 28, 1863.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The Eastern dispatches bring up the news to the 27th. Notwithstanding the heavy rains and wretched roads in Virginia, Hooker has not been idle. A daring reconneissance across the Rappahannock, from Port Conway to Port Royal, about fifteen miles below Fredericksburg, is reported. The rain ceased on the night of the 24th, since which time the river has been too high to permit active operations at the upper fords. The rebels seem to be concentrating their strength in the vicinity of Fredericksburg.

A correspondent of the New York World says that the affair at Charleston has produced a revolution in the Ordnance Bureau of the Navy Department. The Dahlgren guns, it is said, are to give way to thirteen-inch guns, of an entirely new construction, and the attack on Charleston will not be renewed until the Monitors can be furnished with the new ordnance. The World is questionable authority as to the intentions of the Government. It is of urgent importance that Dupont's work shall be re newed as soon as the iron-clads can be put in complete fighting trim. The idea of waiting until the hot month of June for another experiment with guns the value of which is uncertain is peculiarly grateful to the soul of a Copper, head, but vexatious to Union men. The Monitors were off North Edisto river on the 21st of April, and the land forces were in the same vicinity.

We have advices from Vicksburg to the 22d of April. Six more transports had succeeded in running the blockade. The fleet concentrated at New Carthage, below Warrenton, consisted, then, of nine gunboats, two rams, seven transports and a large number of flatboats and barges, which would appear to be sufficient for Grant's purpose. Up to that date there had been no attempt to move the army across the of Pemberton's infantry had been summoned to Tennessee to reinforce Bragg, and reports to the same effect come to us from Murfreesboro. If this should prove to be the case, Grant's labors will be lightened while those of Rosecrans are multiplied.

Marmaduke, an active rebel partisan, has been creating trouble in Southwestern Missouri. He is said to have six or eight thousand men under his command. On Sunday morning, 20th, he attacked Cape Girardeau, a strong position on the Mississippi, defended by General McNeill, and after a three hours fight was repulsed. Several divisions of Federal troops are moving southward from Rolla, to drive the enemy back into Arkansas.

General Fremont has written a letter rec ommending the employed of the negroes freed by the President's proclamation in the work of building the Pacific Railroad. He thinks that a large supply of this labor can be obtained. and that with its aid the work can be carried on with great rapidity. The drain of ablebodied white laborers for the military service renders this suggestion worthy of consideration.

Our dispatch from San Francisco states that information has been received there of the arrival of Judge Terry and party at Monterey, Mexico, en route to join Magruder in Texas. As the Judge cannot return by the time fixed for the meeting of the "Democratic" State Central Committee, we suppose he made arrangements to have a proxy at that Convention. Any "good Democrat" who drinks the health of Jeff. Davis in private, and expresses his solicitude for the Constitution in public, will an-

By Overland Mail, we have detailed advices from St. Louis to April 5th, and from New York to April 8d. The matters received are not very important. The Administration journals were jubilant over the victory in Rhode Island.

An occasional correspondent, writing from Camp Douglas, Utah Territory, furnishes a ful description of the battle of Spanish Fork Canon, and makes some damaging exposures of Mormon treachery. The Fourteenth Session of the California Legislature closed at noon yesterday. The usual resolutions of thanks to the officers were adopted, and farewell speeches, marked by good taste and patriotic sentiment, were delivered by Lieutenant Governor Chellis and Speaker Machin. The Assembly very properly voted compensation to the clergymen who had officiated in that body during the session.

UNDER WHICH WING !

Among the papers in the State which claim to be Democratic, there is quite a disagreement as to the policy to be pursued. Between the two wings-the two Committees-the struggle seems to be on the point, as to which represents the Democracy of the State. The genuine antiwar anti-coercion-of-rebels Democrats, are all to be found in that wing which voted for John C. Breckinridge for President in 1860; while the Union war-to-put-down-rebellion Democrats, who voted for Douglas, and who have not joined the Union party, are still represented by the Colton Committee. That Committee has called a Convention, to meet in Sacramento on the 24th day of June. At the primary election, and under the call, all persons shall be entitled to vote who are in favor of the suppression of the existing rebellion, and the re-establishment supremacy of the Government over the entire territory of the United States, and who will pledge themselves to support the nominees together. of the Convention. On its face, the above call appears to be founded on a platform so clearly for war while rebels remain in arms, and for the Union, as to render it impossible for the anti-war and former Breckinridge Democrats to take part in the election of delegates. There is but one practicable plan for them to make such an attempt upon, and that is, as suggested by the Republican, to ac cept the call as Democratic, go into the primary election, elect delegates of their stripe, without regard to the sentiments avowed in the call, and then take possession of the State Convention. adopt a platform accordingly, and nominate candidates who will stand squarely on it. As the Breckinridge Secesh wing is in the majority, it would not be difficult for them to carry out such a programme. In a party which generally acts upon the maxim that all is fair in politics, such a proceeding would not be considered as at all violating the principles of honorable party action. It would, too, seem that the call of the Colton Convention had invited action Mississippi. An impression prevailed that most of the character suggested. Heretofore the party represented by that Committee has been styled the Union Democratic party. It has been so designated since 1860, and, until last year, had strictly maintained its position as a Union Democratic organization, ready to sustain and support the Government and the war > to crush out treason. But this year the Committee have taken the responsibility of striking out the word Union, and adopting the name simply of "the Democratic party of the State of California." The Committee no longer professes to represent the Union Democratic party, but it does claim to represent the Democratic party. There is, however, another organization which also presents an older claim to the name of "the Democratic Party," which has its Central Committee and its Corresponding Secretary, though it has been deprived of its President by death. This Peace Democratic Committee is notified to meet in Sacramento on the 5th of May, at which time the question of calling a State Convention will be decided. If a Convention is determined upon, it may be called to meet on the day upon which the other Democratic Convention is to be held, with a view to the fusion of the incongruous elements upon one ticket, or it may be ordered on a different day, and a full ticket on the anti-war platform nominated. Taking the course of the papers which represent the War Democrats on one side, and the Peace Democrats on the other. and we should say that two Democratic tickets are likely to be presented to voters. By this policy, undoubtedly the largest number of votes in the aggregate might be polled against the Union party in the State. If the Breckinridge anti-war wing obtains control of the organization, as they surely will if a fusion is effected, the large mass of the Union Democratic voters will be driven to vote for the Union nominees, in preference to voting for a ticket pledged to oppose the war for the preservation of the Union. The Marysville Express, which is really the exponent of the Breckinridge anti-war wing of the Democracy, dissented from the views of the Republican, and, in so doing, entered its protest against accepting and acting under the Colton as a Democratic call. In a subsequent article, in replying to remarks of its cotemporary in thus acting, it further said : If we have been led into an error as to the Rep If we have been led into an error as to the Republi-can's political status, in justice to ourself we must say that the impression was produced by reading an article in the columns of that journal. In its protest against the action of Colton in calling his Committee together, if we mistake not, the Republican claimed to have worked faithfully for that party, and adduced the fact that it supported its nominee for Superintendent, Colo-nel Stevenson, against Fitzgerald and Swett, and se-cured for him a very large vote in San Joaquin county. We were also of the impression that the Republican upbraided Colton for publishing the call in the SACRA-MESTO UNION instead of that paper, an organ of the party. If we have done the Republican injustice, we will take pleasure in making the proper amends. We party. If we have done the Republican injustice, we will take pleasure in making the proper amends. We are curious to know, however, on which side of the fence it will fall when both parties claiming to be Democrats make their nominations; whether it will support either or both of the tickets. The Express seems to take it for granted that two tickets claiming to be Democratic will be nominated by two distinct Conventions. A similar position is also occupied by the Napa Echo, which is thoroughly anti-war. That paper, under the head of "A Funny Idea," responds to the Republican's suggestion in the

Charleston to be Attacked Again-The Late Rains in Virginia.

NEW YORK, April 25th. A special dispatch to the World says : A partial revolution has been effected in the Ordnance Bureau of the Navy Department in consequence of the failure of the attack on Charleston. New instructions have been issued respecting the armament of iron-clads-not only those at Port Royal, but those now building. The Dahlgren guns are to be removed, and an entirely new thirteen-inch gun, capable of using seventy-five oounds of powder at a charge, is to be substi-uted. This is to be done before the attack on Charleston will be renewed. By means of this hange a single effective shot may be relied ipon to breach Sumter. It also may be effectely bombarded at a much greater distance The new guns are now in process of construc tion, but it is believed that several weeks will elapse before they can be put in sufficient num-

General Fremont and the Pacific Railroad. NEW YORK. April 25th.

General Fremont, in a letter to Hallett Co., suggests the occupation immediately of the Pacific Railroad lands by large bodies of men freed by the President's Emancipation Proclamation. He says that the consideration of the fact that so large a number of our able adjed citizens are under arms, and the great apidity with which the road could be driven orward by the employment of this people nakes this subject worthy of the most libera discussion.

THE FOURTEENTH LEGISLATURE .- This body adjourned yesterday sine die, and a considerable portion of the members of both houses left for the Bay City. Those still remaining will probably leave for home to-day. The session has not been as short as we hoped it would be; it has continued for nearly four months, which is about the average of California Legislatures. In view of the work performed, and the unprecedented length of the Senatorial contest, it is probable the session, in justice to the public business, could not have been reduced much in length. As a general rule, the members of both houses were faithful to their duties-were more inclined to work than to talk. The progress of legislation did not develop men who stood intellectually head and shoulders above those around them, but it did develop an unusual amount of practical business talent in both bodies. But beyond all the legislative bodies which have convened in California, the Fourteenth Session has been noted for the correct deportment and purity of morals of its members. So little gaming, drink-ing and carousing has never before been wit-nessed among members of the Legislature by the people of this city during a session. It was remarked yesterday, in our hearing, that the members were different men from those who have before visited Sacramento as members. That their legislation is perfect will not be claimed, though we think it may be said that no session has ever passed during which fewer ob-jectionable bills were enacted into laws. The people may consider themselves fortunate if they return a body of as good men to the next Legislature. That the future of this city is dependent on the Pacific Railroad is a fact of which the people ought to be fully aware. It is their only tore for perstening the fully aware. It is their only the solution is prefect of the fully aware. It is their only the fourteent of the coling the tail to follow the head. The object of that road is to take business and passengers away from Sacramento, and her only chance for counteracting that rival influence is to construct as rapidly as possible the Pacific Railroad.

WORTH REMEMBERING .- General Halleck i not a very popular man. He has no party. It is consoling to feel assured, however, that the General-in-Chief is not a demagogue, and is not even suspected of aspiring to the Presidency. He may be too slow; he may succumb to the influence of West Point prejudice; he may be deficient in the magnetic power which kindles laiure which has just completed its work "the popular enthusiasm. But we believe him to be a trained soldier, of large intellect, sincerely devoting his energies to the advancement of the National cause.

clusive, which throw quite a different aspect on the state of affairs there. From reports there it would appear that instead of the Mexicans having suffered a defeat as published through French sources, they have invariably repulsed the assailants at Puebla. That city still baffled French military skill and valor. Not being in receipt of anything positive through a French channel since the 4th of April leads to the sup-position that the Mexicans have as yet been successful in their defense of Puebla and that New Yons, April 27th. A Fortress Monroe letter, dated April 25th, says: Yesterday morning a force of infantry, cavalry and artillery, under General Corcoran, was sent out from Suffolk on the Edenton road to drive the group from their side site shirt to drive the enemy from their rifle pits, which were doing a great deal of damage. Our forces advanced cautiously and drew the fire of the enemy. The artillery then opened on the rebels, which was returned by them. The infantry were ordered to charge the rifle pits, which were carried at the point of the bayonet, dislodging uccessful in their defense of Puebla, and that he French are as far from capturing it as when they started. The New Orleans Era of April 19th has a letter dated United States Consulate, Monterey, April 3d, which says: A Government official arrived here last night, bringing news from the rebels. Thirty Prize Vessels at Key West-Blockade Runners Destroyed.

 That in view of the heated and seemingly irreconcilable passions excited by a protracted and sanguinary civil war, it is impracticable to approach the discussion of measures of peace with that calmness which is eminently desirable and requisite'; it is proper and expedient, therefore, that an armistice should be established between the contending States, for the purpose of honorable pacification.
 6. That the only hope of conciliation and compromise by which the spirit and vitality of free government may be preserved and perpetuated, reposes in the popular repudiation of the aggressive and arbitrary policy of the existing Administration; a policy which, if persevered in, points indubitably to a final dissolution and endless despolism—and in the renewed ascendency of the conservative principles of unchanging Constitutional Democracy. NEW YORK, April 27th. Correspondence from Key West to April 21st says there were in port thirty prize vessels whose cargoes were disposed of by the Court. Almost every day added to the number.
