NEWS OF THE MORNING. Victory continues to light up the sky in the East. Just now Sheridan is the hero of the field. The wires were working rather badly last evening, so that some important news ment of "sitting on air." Whether "the backcould not be transmitted. The operator at Salt Lake briefly stated that Sheridan had captured Early, Breckinridge, and ten thousand of their men. The dispatches received from the valley mention great results and foreshadow others so elastic, so yielding to heavy pressure, and so to come. Early was defeated again at Fisher's Hill, losing sixteen cannon and three thousand men. Sheridan pressed forward in pursuit by the turnpike from Strasburg to Woodstock, while Torbert, with his cavalry, Jeff. Davis is on his knees, with a halter round was sent down the Luray valley to cut off the his neck, begging the President to put him out retreat of the fugitive foe. Sheridan concluded his last dispatch by stating that if his orders were carried out by Torbert, great results would be achieved. That corps of Lee's army seems to be virtually destroyed.

By way of Memphis we have a report that Mobile surrendered unconditionally to Farragut when the city was at the mercy of his guns' The report is contained in a dispatch from Holly Springs, Mississippi.

Richmond was alarmed and depressed by the news of Early's defeat on the Opequon. Lee endeavored to quiet apprehension by misrepresenting the character of the contest and concealing the full scope of the disaster. It is a wonder he did not preface the false dispatch with a pious sentence, according to custom. One of If a desperate battle, or series of battles, be the rebel journals predicts that the struggle not fought in the neighborhood of Petersburg south of Petersburg will be the bloodiest of before the old flag is given to the breeze from the war, and says both parties are watching each the Capitol at Richmond, our calculations are other with sleepless vigilance.

THE UNION MEETING AT FOLSOM .- A large and enthusiastic meeting of the supporters of the Union cause was held at Folsom on Saturday evening last. The Theater (Durfee's) was well filled, a great many ladies occupying the galleries. C. G. W. French, President of the Lincoln and Johnson Club, presided, assisted by Roger Day, Secretary. The Folsom Glee Club, composed of ladies and gentlemen, favored the audience with their presence and with several soul-stirring and patriotic songs. Among the female voices of this Club there is one at least that is unsurpassed in sweetness, power and training in this State. After the dispatch of some preliminary business in the adoption of a Constitution and by-laws, Judge Gilmer, of Sacramento, was introduced, and at some length and with great effect addressed the meeting, receiving frequent and marked manifestations of approbation. The speaker referred to his previous political antecedents, which were of the Democratic order of the straightest sect, and eloquently appealed to all who were of like faith to carry out the true principles of genuine Democracy by joining the Union forces in sustaining the Administration in putting down the rebellion. His allusion to an election lately held in the Shen andoah valley under the superintendence of that little Irishman, Phil. Sheridan, in which the Breckinridge Secessionists had been routed horse, foot and dragoons, "brought down the house with tremendous cheers." M. C. Tilden, of Sacramento, followed in an eloquent and finished address, in which he depicted the issues involved in the contest with great power. P. J. Hopper and A. P. Catlin also briefly addressed the Club, their remarks being received with frequent marks of applause.

The roll of members showed about one hundred and eighty names. The Unionists of Folsom have fairly entered the fight, and the enemy, who one week ago were so defiant and boastful, already show signs of weakness. It is the design of the Club to keep the ball rolling, and to roll up in the Folsom precinct a larger majority for Lincoln and Johnson than was ever cast any former election for our ticket. The presence of distinguished speakers from abroad will be secured at future meetings of the Club, and the patriotic and talented ladies and gentlemen of the Glee Club have promised their aid to the good cause.

There is no locality where a good Union paper is more needed, or where Copperheadism is mere offensive and virulent.

INDIANS NORTH .- Some thirteen Indians of the Antelope tribe have been killed in Tehama county, lately, by white scouts, in retaliation for murders and other outrages. In a cave pointed out by a squaw of the Pitt River tribe, who accompanied the party, seven splendid rifles and a quantity of ladies' and children's clothing were found. ATTACK BY INDIANS .- A man named Gibson recently from Washoe, was attacked by Indians near Bear Valley, about eighteen miles from Shasta, as he was traveling on the road between that town and Copper City. A gun was first fired, and afterwards several arrows discharged at him. His horse was hit by one of the arrows, but he escaped injury. Not So .- The California Express says that the Union men of Oroville stole the cannon on the night of their "fizzle." The statement is unfounded. The cannon was taken off the carriage by the party that was employed by the McClellanites for repair. So says the Oroville LOYAL IRISH .- It is stated that many Irish in San Francisco, who wish to separate themselves from the disloyal portion of the Irish population, are about to form a large Lincoln and Johnson Club.

APPARENTLY A FAILURE.

We are not prepared to affirm that "the rebellion is on its last legs." That has been asserted so often that the fact of the insurgents bone of the rebellion is broken" is an anatomical question which we are not quite ready to solve, inasmuch as that celebrated vertebral sledge-hammer blows of National force, as to defy an accurate conclusion without such an investigation as we cannot now undertake. That of his misery at once, or that the rebel soldiers and only kept in the ranks by seeing some of ing against desertion, we could not receive as the absolute truth, even upon the affidavits of several reliable correspondents of the New York press. We concede that the Unionism of Governor Vance, of North Carolina, is more uncertain than the war spirit of the Copperheads or the disinterested and heroic devotion of George B. Mc-Ciellan. We confess that the sudden conversion of Joseph Brown, the fire-eating Governor of and inclusive of 1863: Georgia, into a peace maker on Union terms, is more difficult to conceive than the presence of a patriotic pulse in the heart of Vallandigham. seriously at fault and based upon erroneous data. Meantime, the Army of the Potomac is becoming strong enough to swing round by the left to cept battle upon unequal terms, and with the chance of victory only to enable him to retreat southward, leaving Richmond to Grant. Hood's troops may reinforce Lee, and thus give up the cotton States to Sherman, without rendering the rebel General's forces equal to the host in his front, which is continually receiving accessions of strength. Outside of Virginia, there is little or nothing to cheer the rebel heart. Atlanta is not only the key of Georgia, but of the cotton States in general. Under Sherman's management it is becoming another Chattanooga. Hood's army, instead of being reinforced, as it would be if the rebels were firm in of the campaign, seems to be melting away. The Southern people will never find a more generous and forgiving President than Abraham Lincoln, and we believe many of them are beginning to realize the truth, and instead of looking to the Ides of November for Copperhead relief are building their castles of hope upon the ruins of the "Confederacy." Considering the enormons advantages this rebellion had at the start and its present weakly condition, we are afraid it must be pronounced a miserable failure, and the anxiety of its friends in the Northern States and in the palatial halls of the English aristocracy is quite natural under the circumstances. Despair is said to work miracles, but well attested miracles are so rare nowadays that it will be safest to reject the supposition that the

INCREASE OF WEALTH.

The general depression in business, and consequent scarcity of the circulating medium, which have been felt in every branch of trade still holding out may be taken to prove that we and industry during the past Summer in Caliare contending with a gigantic centipede, with fornia, resulting mainly from two causes, to a monster which has the star-fish faculty of wit: the relapse in the mining fever which has reproducing a mutilated member, or with a prevailed for the past two years, and the failure body capable of realizing the conjurer's experi- of the crops, have undoubtedly to some extent depreciated the general faith in the permanent prosperity and steady growth of the State. Perhaps Sacramento county capable of receiving without serious injury the feels these checks as quickly and as sensibly as any other part of the State, but yet her march is not impeded in its progress in the natural increase of solid wealth. She may be taken as an index of the condition of the whole State. Progress is the law of our material condition; and when the outward signs of vigor seem paralyzed, are hopelessly demoralized, ragged and hungry, and the adventitious excitements which from time to time produce, alternately, spasms of their comrades shot every morning, as a warn- activity and spells of exhaustion, have passed off, we may still feel certain that the inevitable law of growth governs the material wealth of We take as an authentic proof of this fact-

Each year of labor, though seldom rewarded with a realization of the hopes which the stimulated and overworked energies of the people of a new empire are apt to cherish, still adds to the store which the patient industry which more distinguishes the people of older communities, rolls up into competence and wealth; and so the general wealth of the State grows apace with a steadiness and uniformity,

OFFICIAL DISPATCH OF SHERIDAN Particulars of the Battle and Victory at Fisher's Hill.

3,000 REBEL PRISONERS AT WINCHESTER. CLOSE PURSUIT OF THE ENEMY.

Early's Army Panic-Stricken.

WASHINGTON September 24th. The following official dispatch has just been received from Sheridan, detailing some particulars of the battle and victory at Fisher's Hill:

"I cannot as yet give any definite account. Our less is light. Crook struck the left flank of the enemy, doubled it up, and advanced down their lines. Rickett's Division, Sixth Army Corps, swung in and joined Crooks. Getty's and Wheaton's Divisions took up the same movement and were followed by the whole line, which attacked beautifully and carried the works of the enemy. The rebels threw down their arms and fled in the greatest confusion, abandoning most of their artillery. It was dark before the battle ended. I pursued on after the enemy during the night to this point, with the Sixth and Nineteenth Corps. I have stopped here to rest the men and issue rations. If General Torbett has pushed down the Luray valley, according to my directions, he will achieve great results. I do not think there was ever an army so badly routed in the valley. The soldiers are hiding away and going to their homes. I cannot at present give any estimate of the prisoners, as I pushed on regardless of everything. The number of pieces of artillery reported captured is sixteen.

ments and supplies have been forwarded to Sheridan, STANTON.

New York, September 24th.

The Herald's special dispatch, dated "Right of Sheridan's Army, September 22d," says: On the morning of Tuesday, when Sheridan advanced, he found the enemy had not been idle during the night, but on the contrary had taken advantage of it to add as much as possible to the distance between himself and the victors of the last field. Still, in moving up, we had to engage in skirmishing of rather a heavy character. This gave rise to reports, no doubt, that we were, as an army, fighting another battle. On Tuesday, the 20th, our cavalry, both on the right and left, was active in attacking the enemy's flank and harassing his retreat. Our infantry also did good work. To day we are again on the move forward. The movement this morning was attended with more fighting. Preparations are being made to send the wounded to the rear as fast as possible. Field hospitals will only be established for temporary use. Many of the wounded have been cared for in hospitals along the line of march. Complete official lists will be forwarded as soon as the surgeons can make them out. The rebel dead left on the field have been preperly buried, and the rebel wounded have been cared for as well as our own. As we advance the report is that Early will make another stand "just ahead," but as we reach each point, "just ahead," Early's force is found to have retired. Some say this morning that the line the rebels intend to fight it out on, is where one fork of the Shenandoah river crosses the Valley pike. Our hope is that he will do so. In the last battle the loss of rebel field officers, killed and wounded, seems to have been extraordinary. killed and wounded, seems to have been extraordinary killed and wounded, seems to have been extraordinary.

New York, September 24th.

It is ascertained that Early's shattered forces, or what is left of them, have abandoned the road to Staunton and are retreating in disorder, via Culpepper and forodonsville, directly toward Richmond, leaving the road to Lynchburg unobstructed, while Lee is unable to spare another army of sufficient strength to oppose the progress of the victorious Sheridan.

The news from Sheridan's army yesterday created wild excitement throughout the city. The capture of Fisher's Hill, that great stronghold and key to the upper part of the Shenandon's Valley, and the addition of sixteen cannon and several thousand prisoners, to the trophies already won by the victorious army of Sheridan, are regarded here as conclusive evidence of the dan, are regarded here as conclusive evidence of the complete destruction of the rebel army in the valley and the opening of the whole route to Lynchburg, which necessarily must bring about the speedy evacuation of Richmond or the capture of the rebel Capital and Lee's whole army.

WASHINGTON, September 24th.
The Republican Extra has the following: The Government received dispatches from General Stevenson his morning, dated at Harper's Ferry, announcing that we thousand prisoners had reached Winchester last night. The rebel loan in London declined three per cent, on the receipt of American advices by the Asla.

The London Times and other papers discuss the American news by the Asla. The Times says there never has been such vigor displayed since the war began. Commenting on the Chicago Convention it thinks Lincoin's policy has received a heavy check by the nomination of McClellan.

The Post thinks that as McClellan has been distinguished by moderation, if he be installed as President, unfettered by pledges, he would assent to any arrangement for peace.

The Times says: "Never, since the war began, has there been such a display of vigor and energy on both sides. Battle succeeds battle with frightful rapidity. The cenflicts are long and bloody—the victories trifling and indecisive. The most important part of the news relates to the Chicago Convention. Lincoin and his policy have received a heavy check by that Convention's choosing McClellan—a man whom Lincoin endeavored to keep down—a man whom Lincoin my lincoin and in spelled. It will be observed that the Convention's speaks of the preservation of the Union as a principal object. This declaration would have had more weight if the Convention had stated what course it would recommend in case the conciliation and compromise which it advises should fall of effect."

The Star thinks the Federal successes at Atlanta and Mobile will powerfully stimulate the war feeling of the North, Inasmuch as they bear very hard upon the South. It is possible the Southern leaders may be much inclined to listen to compromise before their military strength is entirely gone. In this view they would be more reconciled to treat with McClellan than Rebel News-Early's Defeat, New York, September 25th.

The Richmond Dispatch of September 22d has the following relative to Early's defeat: A report was in circulation at an early hour yesterday that a fight occurred near Winchester on Monday last (19th), which resulted disastrously to the Confederate arms. As usual, when unfavorable news is affoat, the grossest exaggerations prevailed, till the following official dispatch from Lee was given out by the authorities:

GREAT UNION MEETING IN PLACERVILLE. - 2 dispatch from Placerville, dated September 24th, says: The Union men of this city are now holding one of the greatest and most enthusiastic meet ings that the county has ever witnessed. Large delegations from Coloma, Georgetown, Diamond and Mud Springs, arrived with torches and appropriate transparencies, and were met and escorted into town with the greatest enthusiasm. After marching through the town they returned to the speaker's stand to listen to Henry Edgerton. The vicinity of the stand is densely crowded. The frequent expressions of appro-bation and concurrence from the people attest the unanimity of this county for Lincoln and Johnson and the Union. Carpenter and Hamil ton also spoke.

CUTTING AFFRAY .- A man named Peacock who lives on the squatter disputed territory near Healdsburg, and whose crop of hay was recently burned by the squatters, was assaulted a few days ago, by the Prouse Brothers, with a cleaver, receiving some ugly cuts on his head, arm and back. The wounded man was brought to Healdsburg, and his wounds dressed.

PROCLAMATION.

TATE OF CALIFORNIA—EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, SACRAMENTO, September 24, 1864.—Whereas, I have this day received a requisition from Major General IRWIN McDOWELL, Commanding Department of the Pacific (the same have been made by authority of the Secretary of War), for one Regiment of Isfantry, in addition to the Volunteers now in the service of the United States, to aid in the enforcement of the laws, to suppress insurrection, and repel invasion;

Now, therefore, I, FREDERICK F. LOW, Governor of the State of California and Commander-in-Chief of the Militia thereof, do hereby call upon the citizens of this State to organize themselves into companies sufficient to fill the foregoing requisition.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the the Great Seal of State of California to be affixed. Done at Sacramento this 24th day of September, A. D. 1864.

FRED'K F. LOW,

Governor of California.

Governor of Califo B. B. REDDING, Secretary of State. F. W. REDDING, Deputy.

The following is hereby promulgated:
The plan of recruiting and organizing the above forcwill be as follows:

Recruiting.

It is desirable that the citizens of one county should undertake to fill a company from their locality. A company rendezvous will be established at some central point in the county, and, if practicable, all recruits will be retained there until the company is filled and ready to be mustered into service.

Correct lists will be kept by the Assistant Provost Marshal General, of the volunteers and their places of residence, and proper credits will be given to the several counties, and to the districts into which the counties are divided, which credits will apply on the quots which may be required of them.

The city and county of San Francisco is hereby set apart for the enlistment of volunteers to fill up the regiments now in the service, and no authorization will be granted for the formation of new companies at that point.

The State has provided by law for the payment of a Recruiting.

The State has provided by law for the payment of a bounty of $160 to each enlisted soldier, and $300 to each enlisted veteran soldier, who shall have served for more than six months in the army of the United States n addition to the bounties authorized to be paid by the inited States. (See Statutes 1863-4, page 486.)

Five dollars per month while in the service is authorized to be paid by the State, in addition to the pay, clothing and allowances paid by the United States.

The additional regiment of infantry will be known as the Seventh Infantry, California Volunteers.

The field, staff and line officers will be commissioned oncers will be commissioned by the Governor.

Commissions will be issued to company officers, conditioned that they shall recruit their respective companies and be ready to be mustered into the service on or before the 10th of November next.

Organization.

The proper organization and strength of a regiment of infantry is as follows:
One (1) Colonel, one (1) Lieutenant Oclonel, one (1) Major, one (1) Adjutant, (an extra Lieutenant), one (1) Quartermaster, (an extra Lieutenant), one (1) Surgeor, two (2) Assistant Surgeons, one (1) Chaplain, one (1) Sergeant Major, one (1) Regimental Quartermaster Sergeant, one (1) Regimental Commissary Sergeant, and one (1) Hospital Steward. Ten companies form a regiment.

one (1) Hospital Steward, Ten Companion (1) First regiment.
Company of Infantry.—One (1) Captain, one (1) First Lieutenant, one (1) Second Lieutenant, one (1) First Sergeant, four (4) Sergeants, eight (8) Corporals, two (2) Musicians, one (1) Wagoner, sixty-four (64) privates, minimum, and eighty-two privates maximum, besides the non-commissioned officers.

The law does not authorize musicians for companies, but regulations allow the enlistment of two musicians to each company, who will be rated and paid as privates.
