SOUTHERN RELIEF FUND.—Rev. Father Buchard delivered a lecture at the Court House, in this place, on Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Southern Relief Fund. The lecture was an able and interesting one, and although the attendance was not large, the sum of eighty seven dollars was collected for the fund. A committee of five was appointed, with power to appoint sub-committees in every precinct, for the purpose of making a thorough canvass of the county for this praiseworthy object.

A SNAKE.—While out in the woods a few days ago, Dr. Silverthorn was surprised to see his favorite fox bound rushing frantically towards him, with a large rattlesnake fastened to its head. The doctor procured a stick and killed the snake, which measured over three feet in length. It appears that the snake's fangs became fastened in the dog's flesh in such a way as to prevent it from detaching itself. The wound inflicted by the snake bit profusely, and the dog is recovering from the effects of the bite.

SOUTH FORK.—The news from South Fork is rather discouraging, so far as the process of developing the mines is concerned. We understand that work has ceased upon every ledge in the district, and the workmen have mostly left. We hope this cessation of work will be only temporary, and that everything will be going on satisfactorily in a short time. That some of the South Fork mines are exceedingly rich has been demonstrated beyond a doubt. Their permanency has yet to be proved.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.—The Democratic State Convention, which met in San Francisco on the 19th, nominated Henry H. Haight, of San Francisco, for Governor; Wm. Holden, of Mendocino, for Lieutenant Governor; Dr. Nichols, of Sacramento, for Secretary of State, and D. Watts, of Nevada, for Controller.

LEG BROKEN.—Charles Hazlett was thrown from a refractory mule, on Wednesday, at Johnson's ranch, and had his right leg broken and ankle dislocated. He was attended by Dr. Pelham, who reset the broken limb, and left the patient in a fair way to speedily recover from his injuries.

MANSLAUGHTER.—The trial of John Regan for the murder of Wm. Kingston took place this week in the District Court, the jury finding a verdict of guilty. Judge Garter sentenced him to seven years imprisonment in the State Prison.

UNION CHURCH.—Rev. Mr. Cleveland, a Presiding Elder of the Methodist Episcopal Church, on Mount Shasta District, will preach in the Union Church, in this place, on Sunday next, at 11 A. M., and at night.

TO BLACKSMITHS.—Samuel Isaacs, wishing to retire from business, offers his blacksmith shop for sale. It is one of the best stands in the county, and will be sold on reasonable terms. See advertisement.

LOCATED.—The commissioners appointed to select a location for the State Agricultural and Mining College, have located the institute in Alameda county.

It Will Stand.

The Union party is destined to live and control the destinies of the United States for many years to come. Certain local communities, and even States, may fall from the loyal phalanx into the embrace of treason-tainted Democracy, but the cause will not die in consequence. The organization may be temporarily betrayed by false and unscrupulous men, and may suffer from the unwise and mistaken policy of its partisans, but the main principles upon which it is founded will live and eventually triumph despite all difficulties and adverse circumstances. The party is founded on the most vital principle of the Union and the Government, and must continue to live and flourish with them in the future.

It has been aptly said that revolutions never go backward, and this is essentially an era of progress and progressive ideas. The South is beginning to realize this fact, and her most enlightened and intelligent people are actively assisting to extend the free and liberal ideas of the North throughout the Southern States. The creed taught by the Calhouns, Rhett, and Davises is giving way before the light of Freedom and the principles of permanent Union, stable Government, and sound Nationality. Every indication points to the assurance that the Union party of the North will soon clasp hands with the loyal party of the reconstructed South, and then the bond of Union will be complete. United upon the common platform of Liberty, Law, and Nationality, the great Union organization of the North and South will bid defiance to all foreign and domestic foes and continue to control and direct the destinies of the Republic in its onward march to power, wealth, and renown.

The question of day is whether California shall continue to keep her place in the list of Union States or fall into the hands of the Democracy, to languish in the embrace of the soulless crew who exulted at the misfortunes of our armies during the late war, opposed the Government, and favored rebellion at every opportunity. For one we say that this Golden State—this sentinel at the western gate of the Republic—must remain true and loyal to the Union and the Government saved and sanctified by the outpouring of patriot blood, and the expenditure of millions of treasure. What say the loyal men of Shasta county?

FOR CONGRESS.—The Third Congressional District Convention met at Marysville on Saturday last, and nominated Chancellor Hartson, of Napa, for Congress, J. O. Goodwin having withdrawn his name before a ballot was had. Mr. Hartson is a temperate, able and energetic man, thoroughly identified with the interests of this Congressional District, and will make an excellent Representative at Washington. We understand he is favorable to the advancement and early completion of the California and Oregon Railroad, and this fact alone should strongly recommend him to the favor and support of this and adjoining counties. Upon all questions of national import Mr. Hartson is a sound Radical, and insists on the right of loyal men to reconstruct the Union and govern the Republic which they saved from the grasp of treason.

REORGANIZED.—Two of the proprietors and the editor of the S. F. Alta have left the concern on account of its opposition to Gorham. The principal owners of the paper are controlled by the Bank of California and other moneyed monopolies, and were afraid to endorse the nomination of Gorham lest they might lose the patronage of the banking and corporation interests of the city. Seabach, Claves and McComb desired to support the Union ticket, and withdrew from the paper in consequence of its disorganizing course.

ANTECEDENCY.—The Appeal says the State ticket is composed of twelve candidates, whose antecedents were as follows: Six Douglas Democrats, three Breckinridge Democrats, and three Republicans. The nomination of John Bidwell and Hale in place of Gorham and Parks would have made no change in the aggregate. As the slate was broken no faction is responsible for the antecedency of the candidates composing the ticket. As an old Republican we think that a Breckinridge or Douglas Democrat is as good as a Republican if he behaves himself.

TRIPLETS.—The San Francisco papers announce the birth of three sons to Dorothea, wife of Henry Danziger, an occurrence so unusual as to warrant special mention. The children weighed nine pounds each, and what is more remarkable, resembled one another so closely that the physician in attendance deemed it proper to attach ribbons of different colors as the helpless babes came into the world, in order to establish priority of birth, should a question arise hereafter as to which is the eldest son.

DIDN'T COME TO TIME.—Woodworth, who conditionally contracted for the purchase of the Chicago mine, at South Fork, failed to come to time with the payment, and has relinquished the claim. The men employed to work the claim during his temporary ownership have not yet been paid in full.

INDIANS.—Several bands of Indians have traveled through the Cow Creek country of late, and it is probable they contemplated the commission of some mischief. Several men recently tracked one of these bands to their rendezvous on Antelope Creek, and killed two bucks.

PREACHING.—We are requested to announce that Rev. George Henning, of the M. E. Church, will preach a course of sermons at the Union Church, in this place, commencing on Monday evening next, and continuing during the week.

SCARCE.—Mining items have become very scarce. Water is failing in most of the placer mines, and nothing is doing on the quartz claims at Copper City, Muletown or South Fork.

How the Ticket is Received.

The expressions of the Press is invariably in harmony with the views and opinions of the mass of the members of the party upon which they rely for support, and may be safely taken as correct criteria of popular sentiment. We exchange with nearly every Union Journal in the State, and so far as we have noticed, every one of them endorse and pledge their support to the State Ticket, with the exception of the sore head sheets of Sacramento and San Francisco. Below we give a few extracts, which will serve to show the tenor of the unbiased and unprejudiced Union Press of the State. Read:

THE UNION TICKET.—The Republican candidates for State officers are now presented to the people for their support at the next election. The sharp and bitter controversy for ascendancy, among rival candidates and their partisans, is at length ended. We are now summoned to another conflict, destined to be more protracted and malignant. Let it now be remembered that the time has arrived to cease intestine strife; to compose our differences; to reconcile conflicting ambitions; to restrain within proper limits our devotion at the shrine of self-interest, and make it subservient to the good of our party and the country. Let us, then, in the spirit of harmony which actuated our representatives of both wings of the party in that Convention, at once frown down all efforts to demoralize and disrupt the Union organization, and move onward in the coming contest, with an unbroken front, to another glorious victory over our political foes.—S. F. Times.

GORHAM FOR GOVERNOR.—In all political conventions there is a losing as well as a winning party. Our choice for Governor has long been known; we placed the name of John Bidwell at the head of our columns and lost no chance of advocating his claims for the position. We believed then, and we believe now, that he is the first choice of the entire northern portion of the State. But the representative Unionism of California has decided against him and we bow to the expressed will of the majority. We give to George C. Gorham the same united support that we would have demanded of Gorham's friends had General Bidwell, instead of him, received the nomination of the Union party. We cannot all obtain our preferences, nor always succeed in elevating our friends, however worthy or qualified, to the positions in which it would be our choice to see them. We have used effort to secure the nomination of that choice for Governor, and failing to do so, yield a cheerful support to his successful opponent, believing that the safety and welfare of both State and Nation and the best interests of the Union party requires that support.

The result of a Copperhead victory in the ensuing State election would be fearful to contemplate. It would array California in opposition to her sister States of the North; it would give the prestige to our enemies in the Presidential campaign next year. We are called upon by every sentiment of patriotism to bury all differences with the Union of the Convention, and yield a cordial, hearty and earnest support to the nominees of that organization which has preserved the nation from dismemberment and brought our country so grandly through the perils which threatened her very existence. Bearing in mind that it is principles, not men, that we sustain, we will go into the battle with a united front and aim the truth to gain the triumph of those principles.—Trinity Journal.

THE UNION TICKET.—The nominees of the State Convention compose the regular Union ticket, and if we as Union men would preserve the organization—State, county and town—we must stand by the Union party nominees. If one, two or three of them are obnoxious to individuals, those persons may or may not individually bolt them at the polls. But representative sentiment is not considered in the Convention. If we would elect our own Representatives to Congress, State Senators, Assemblymen, Sheriffs, Clerks, Assessors, Supervisors, and save the administration of the State from falling into the hands of the Copperheads, we must stand by the nominees. If one faction bolts the Convention of 1867 the other can retaliate in 1871. If Union men can with propriety bolt a Governor, another can with propriety bolt a Clerk, &c. The simplest mind can see the result of such a Kilkenny fight.

The question for the Union party to-day is a plain one. Shall the Union party be broken up by refusing to endorse the nominees of the Union State Convention? We say it must not. Individuals are nothing—principles and organization everything. We do not hesitate which to choose. We prefer a Union party organization to the nominees of the defeated aspirants, but our disappointment does not rob us of our senses. If we are to be again defeated at the polls we go down with our flag flying, and our faces to the foe. Principles not men.—Marysville Appeal.

THE CONVENTION.—The nominees are all prominent and well known members of the Union party of the State. Several of them are officers of the party, and have served the State honestly and faithfully. The new men upon the ticket, Geo. C. Gorham for Governor, and the others have also held both Federal and State positions important and responsible in their character, and no word of blame or of censure against their characters of any kind or from any source has ever been whispered by their political foes or partisan opponents. Having so discharged their public duties in the past, and by such tests are public men tried, and this being the case, it is a guarantee that they will so continue to serve the people of the State in the future. They have all stood by the Union in the hour of its darkest trouble, and are ready in the victories for its preservation. That the Union ticket from top to the bottom will be elected, there can be no doubt, despite the efforts that will be made by the Democratic party, and a very few men in the Union party who now threaten to bolt to that party, or divide the Union party of California. * * * When the people of California become acquainted with the nominees before the canvass closes, numbers will be astonished to think that in some instances they have been woefully deceived as regards the merits and demerits of all of them.—Folsom Telegraph.

STAND BY THE ORGANIZATION.—There never was a time, perhaps, in the history of the Union party, when thorough organization was so important, so indispensably necessary as in the coming campaign. At no time since its organization has the supremacy of the Union party been so imperiled. At no time has there been so much of a strict adherence to the principles upon which the war was fought been so necessary as now. We trust that the party that saved California from the horrors of rebellion, when the black flag of treason spread its folds over eleven Southern States, will remember that its work is not half done; that though the contest has been changed from a war of bullets to a war of ballots, the same principles are at stake—that the same faith that animated the Democracy during the four years of war, animates it still. * * * Let Union men then combine; let them work side by side and shoulder to shoulder. Let no local differences divide them; for the men and the party who were true to principle and loyal to the country in the dark days of the rebellion, are likely to be true to principle and loyal to the country in the days of peace. If we believed in the principles of the party in days gone by, how can we have less faith in them now? It seems to us that the plain and imperative duty of all truly loyal men, is to stand by the old organization, fighting for principles which have been, are now and ever will be dear to a liberty loving people, and as just and right as they are dear.—Mountain Messenger.

CALIFORNIA'S NEXT GOVERNOR.—George C. Gorham will be the next Governor of California by a sweeping majority. He has never been prominently before the public as an office seeker, and is therefore not so generally known as such men as Bidwell, Pixley, Fay, and others. But those who do know him, know that he is a young man of untiring energy, of sound judgment, and honest ambition; a deep, clear thinker, and one of the most ready and forcible writers in the State. No man began earlier, or worked harder, or more successfully to build up, first, the old Republican and then the Union parties. Bitter things have been said against him by certain papers, but it was in the heat of contest, and those same papers, if consistent, will be his ablest supporters from now until the election. The very fact of his having triumphed over such men as Bidwell, Pixley, Fay, and their hosts of able friends, should be proof positive, and will be acknowledged as such, by all whose direct interests it comes in contact with, that George C. Gorham is the Achilles of the Union hosts of the Pacific.—Admiral Ledger.

OUR STATE TICKET.—As a Union paper, and believing that the verdict of the majority is the opinion of our party fairly expressed, we heartily give in our adhesion to the State ticket nominated at Sacramento, and place it at the head of our columns. We happen to be among those who do not believe that the opinion of a certain portion of the San Francisco press is the opinion of the people. The Bulletin, and the Sacramento Union, we have no matter, neither express the opinions of the Union party, nor even of a fraction of the Union party. Mr. Gorham has not been our choice for Governor, but he is the choice of the representatives of our party, in convention assembled, and as such we give him our hearty support. Who and what dare to intrude their opinions among good Union men? They have led, or tried to lead, ever since their existence as a newspaper.—Santa Clara News.

Of Mr. George C. Gorham, the head of the ticket, we have a right to speak, as we have known him, intimately, for upwards of fifteen years. We have known him in various relations; in business, in social intercourse, as an employee, as a political opponent before the people, through newspaper columns; we have worked with him in the same political traces for the same object; we have known him in adversity, when the sky was dark and lowering upon his head; we have known him in hours of prosperity, and we invoke all that man holds most sacred to bear us witness that, through all these years, and these shifting scenes best calculated to try men, as through a fiery furnace, that no word or act of his have we known, or even heard of, that had the slightest taint of dishonesty, deceit, or treachery attached to it. It has never been our good fortune to know a man in whom confidence in his integrity of purpose, and of statement, was more unqualified, stable, and unwavering, than with Mr. Gorham. For such conviction of honesty of the man, conjoined to transcendent ability—the peer of the ablest of our land—we, unaided by him, or any of his friends, and without a consultation with either, when his name was first mentioned in connection with the office to which he has been nominated, began the advocacy of his claims in this county, to the best of our ability. Had we a thousand lives, we would stake them all on the endorsement of the promise made before the Convention by the nominee, that if elected he would, as alleged, and sustained, against his private or public character, between now and the election, he would retire from the field. This is a challenge that, certainly, not all of his detractors would dare to place before the world. A man of Mr. Gorham's purity of life and character can make it with absolute impunity. HE WILL BE ELECTED BY AS LARGE A MAJORITY AS ANY UNION GOVERNOR EVER RECEIVED IN THIS STATE.—San Andreas Reg.

THE STATE TICKET.—The Union State Convention has adjourned, after having made its nominations. Of course, each man has his preference, and we cannot deny that our favorites were, in more instances than one, defeated for nomination. But we went into that Convention prepared to support the nominees, and did all our opposition to our antagonists before that Convention. We forgot men and saw only the candidates, and we call on all good and just men to stand by the nominees, to do battle for the most glorious political party that ever existed. True it is that some men have not yet altogether buried their grievances and driven the soreness out of their heads. But we know that better counsels will prevail and reason resume its wonted place. We have no fears of the issue. The State ticket is headed by a young man of intellect, ability and progressive talent; a career emblem of "Young America." And let us here remark that we do not think it necessary for a man to be in his dotage to be properly qualified for office. The so called independent papers of Sacramento demand that he withdraw from the canvass as gubernatorial nominee. Whenever any of those journals can show that George C. Gorham ever told any man a lie, or made a promise which he did not faithfully keep, we will not only hand down his name from our main head, but will guarantee his withdrawal in less than twenty-four hours!—Red Bluff Independent.

EXTREMELY NICE.—The Dramatic Chronicle says a fastidious young lady entered a music store at the Bay not long since, and inquired for a "feline intestine" for her guitar. The clerk, who was quite at a loss to understand, discovered, after diligent inquiry, that she wanted a cat gut string.

At a late "tin wedding" in Vermont, after due preparation had been made for a celebratory festival, it became known that the "bride" was missing. She had eloped with a young fellow, taking with her all the "tin" her husband had saved in ten years.

To make money plenty and cheap has been the study of statesmen for the last two centuries, and yet when a counterfeiter steps in and shows how it is done, he is bundled off to the State prison for a dozen years or more. What an ungrateful world.

THANKS TO Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. we have been relieved from sleepless nights of painful watching with poor, suffering, teething children. It gives not only rest, but vigor and health—the little fellow will wake up bright, cheerful and refreshed—softens the gums, cures wind colic and regulates the bowels.—Christian Advocate.
